Newspaper President Faces Fraud/Embezzlement Charges

By Dave Atkins

David Willett, president of Associated Newspapers, was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and released on $50,000 personal bond last Thursday, according to sources at the FBI in Detroit.

An article which appeared in the Sunday Eagle and Enterprise (June 16, 1991), an Associated Newspaper publication, states that Willett voluntarily appeared in Federal Court for official recognition of the Federal complaint which charges him with bank fraud and embezzlement.

Willett owns The Romulus Roman (the official city newspaper of Romulus) and five other publications, including The Wayne Eagle, The Belleville Enterprise, and The Westland Eagle.

Although Mr. Willett claims that he has done nothing wrong, John Anthony, media consultant for the FBI, said that Willett is charged with bank fraud and embezzlement, which carries a maximum prison term of 30 years.

In my first talk with Mr. Anthony, he had told me that it was likely that Mr. Willett would plead "not guilty" and, because of the way Federal law works, the Government would not be able to bring Willett to trial in the time allotted and the FBI would most likely drop the criminal complaint against Willett.

When I asked Anthony what would happen then, he said, "If we drop the criminal complaint, then we will seek a Federal indictment against Mr. Willett. If that indictment is issued, then we will take it (Willett's case) to court."

On Monday, June 17, I called the FBI again to get an update on the case, since I was going to press this week. Once again, I spoke to John Anthony. This time, Mr. Anthony stated that the FBI intended to go forward with the criminal charges against Willett without seeking a grand jury indictment. When asked what that meant, he said that, over the weekend, something had come up (he didn't say what) that caused the FBI to change its mind and go forward with the embezzlement and bank fraud charges against Willett.

According to Anthony, the FBI is alleging that Willett caused the First of America Bank in Wayne to lose in excess of $30,000 through "kiting" funds from one account to another. Assistant Vice President Rebecca Brown of that bank refused to comment on the issue and told me to check with the agencies involved.

The other institution that was involved in the alleged fraud and embezzlement scheme was the Wayne Westland Federal Credit Union on Sims Street in Wayne.

According to acting Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Thelma Wright, "A little over a year and a half ago, we discovered what Mr. Willett was doing, and we froze all of his accounts and eventually closed them all. This credit union did not lose a penny, although some of the newspapers allege that we also lost over $30,000. That is not true; we absolutely did not lose a dime." When asked if the Wayne Westland Federal Credit Union was the one to turn Willett in for what was believed to be illegal activities at the credit union, her answer was "Yes." According to Mrs. Thomas, Willett had four or five accounts at the credit union, but not all were necessarily business accounts.

David Willett's official press release, according to his wife Sue, the publisher of the Associated News papers, is, "I never wrote a check I could not and did not cover, and no bank or lending insti-

Teachers Say "No" Once Again

By Dave Atkins

At the last meeting of the Romulus Board of Education, a considerable amount of frustration was shown by both parents and students because of the one-day "blackboard flu" that hit the Romulus school district.

Appearing at the Board meeting on behalf of the teachers' union was Chris Powers. She told the Board that she didn't know the teachers were going to call in sick on the day that they did.

Powers also reminded Board members that they didn't like it when teachers showed up at some of last year's Board meetings with black arm bands and wreaths, indicating that negotiations were dead. She said that the teachers and the union had tried to work smoothly with the Board this year, but to no avail as far as a signed contract was concerned, and she indicated that the next school year will not be so easy.

One of the students in attendance spoke to Powers and the Board, asking, "Why is it that you (the teachers) always pull this kind of thing (referring to the teachers not showing up for work) when it is the most important time of the year for the students?" The student went on to state that it isn't the teachers and the School Board that are being affected by the teacher/union moves, it's the students — and it isn't right.

Later, a parent stood up and asked whether or not the students were to report to school the next day. Dan Bales, Board president, assured the lady that school would be open as usual, whether the teachers showed up for work or not.

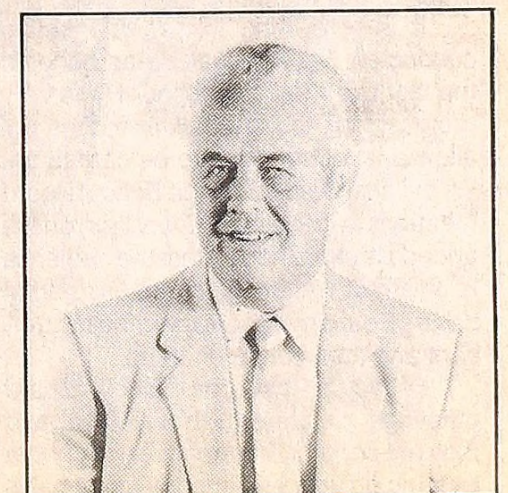

Another mother spoke to Powers and told her, in no uncertain terms, that, at one time, she (like many other parents) had been on the side of the teachers, but now she and others had crossed over to the side of the School Board. Still another parent spoke up and half-heartedly chastised the School Board for giving the teachers a raise in pay when the teachers' union would not sign a contract. She also told Powers that the teachers do nothing for nothing, noting that the teachers get paid for any activity that they attend.

At that point, Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, pointed out that the base pay of 85% of the teachers is $49,547 — that's before any pay for extra activities.

It seems to me that, in a city where the pay of the average working person ranges from $24,000 to $30,000, the teachers are paid plenty — with or without a contract. It has been a long-time stand of mine that, yes, we do have some very good teachers, and, yes, many of them deserve their pay. On the other hand, from what I can see, there are many who do not deserve what they get, and should possibly be brought to tenure. I think it is ridiculous for the School Board, the City, or anyone else to give pay raises with taxpayers' money when there is no signed agreement that says such raises should or could be given.

It Pays To Watch TV

By Dave Atkins

Here of late, if you want to know what is going on in this city, it would be a good idea to watch cable channels 40 and 43 along with reading this paper.

Romulus City Council meetings and School Board meetings are now broadcast on television, and there are times that things on both sides can get downright exciting.

As most of you know, we at the Paper originated the City Council meetings on television, and now we have begun televising the School Board meetings as well.

Just last week, the School Board meeting was exceptionally good for several reasons. First of all, it was explained in a little more detail, how the bond money that the voters approved in the last election is being spent. Seems like they are keeping a pretty good handle on it (the bond money).

What really turned out great, or at least I thought it did, was the way Board president Dan Bales handled the meeting, especially when one of the Union members, Chris Powers, all but outright threatened the Board with Union action in the upcoming year (see the related story on page one).

As it turns out, it appears that President Bales is not going to take any guff from anyone, least of all anyone who more or less threatens the Board.

It is refreshing to see a meeting conducted the way Bales has handled the last two I have watched. He is very professional, to the point, and does not allow a lot of hogwash to be carried on. What I also liked about the School Board meetings is that almost every item on the agenda is explained so that the audience is aware of what is going on, instead of having Board members referring to numbers and then voting on them.

Frankly, I think the School Board meetings are well worth watching, and they are certainly informative about what is going on with your money and what is happening with your child's life as far as the school is concerned. □

Five Women To Run for Council

By Dave Atkins

I understand that, as of June 18, there are five women running for City Council, one of them being Mary Ann Banks. All the regular council members will run, and the Mayor, Clerk, and Treasurer will run unopposed.

Also on the ballot (hopefully) will be the question of whether there should be a four-year term for all elected officials in this city. If the question does get on the ballot, which it most likely will, the terms will not take effect until the next election, two years from now. So, if you have any questions, no, the ones elected this time would not serve four years, but the ones elected at the next election in two years will serve four years (that is, if it passes). Frankly, I am in favor of four-year terms for many reasons, the main reason being that it takes you a little over a year to learn the Council or any other office. If it is your first term, then, by the time you start to get something done, you have to start campaigning all over again. If you elect someone for four years and you don't like what they are doing, you have time to recall them, which, in many cases, you do not have the time for in two-year terms.

I just think that the City could run much more smoothly with four-year terms, and it may be something for you to think about.

Just around the corner at the Court building...

The Court's operating budget was slashed by over $150,000 by the administration and City Council just recently. The budget cut takes effect in this next fiscal year.

Hope you have a nice Fourth of July. Many things will happen at Elmer Johnson Park, and the fun starts early this year with the promise of a much larger fireworks display than last year.

fireworks to the park — you could be escorted out by the Police Department if you do. Make it a fun day for yourself, your family, and everyone else.

See you there.

Traffic Stop

By Officer Rick Schwartz, Romulus Police Department

With the 1990-91 school season winding down, I would like to tell you readers about the Romulus Community Schools' transportation system.

The transportation system is supervised by Mr. John Hadyniak, who, believe it or not, used to drive school buses way back when. (Probably before most of us were even thought of.) John and his staff of two secretaries, Mrs. Shirley Roszler and Mrs. Connie Knight, start planning the bus routes and schedules throughout the summer months while most people are enjoying the warm weather. During the nine months of school, adjustments must be made to accommodate new students moving to Romulus, students moving out, road closures, bad weather, and the approximately 425 field trips which travel locally or go as far away as Detroit, Lansing, Ohio, and Canada.

The transportation fleet consists of 52 school buses used daily to transport our students to and from our one parochial and seven public schools. Also, this past year, the transportation system handled 61 special education students transported to schools out of our district and returned daily.

Another very important part of this transportation system is the mechanics that keep these buses running safely.

Norm McLenon, Mike Cadden, and John Hadyniak, Jr., are the three men in charge of this difficult operation.

There are approximately 2,545 students transported to and from schools daily. Transporting these students is the responsibility of 52 regular bus drivers, five substitutes, and six bus aides. These women have the most important job of all: getting our children back and forth safely. These women will travel approximately 600,000 miles this school year. During that time, very few minor traffic accidents occurred, none have been the fault of any bus driver, and, most importantly, no students were injured. The bus drivers and the police officers are strictly enforcing the "stop law." During the past year, I have processed dozens of passing complaints where motorists have passed school buses loading or unloading our children. In some cases, children have come dangerously close to being struck by these careless motorists. These misdemeanor violations are handled through the 34th District Court of Romulus; fines range from $50 to $85.

John, secretaries, mechanics, drivers, and aides, my hat is off to you all. On behalf of the community which you serve, I would like to thank you very much for the very difficult job that is precisely done due to your dedication and hard training. Your safety record is exemplified by your professionalism. □

Nurse Midwives

All information submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

Nurse midwives could ease the shortage of prenatal-care providers to Michigan's rural and inner-city women. "Nurse midwives" are licensed as registered professionals under the Public Health Code and issued a special certificate in the practice of midwifery by the Board of Nursing.

Currently, there are about 40 nurse midwives in Michigan.

Medicaid reimburses nurse midwives for services performed within the scope of their license. However, many privately insured women are denied the choice of utilizing services from nurse midwives unless they want to pay for this service themselves. Private insurers and other insurance companies do not directly reimburse nurse midwives. Therefore, nurse midwives are forced to work for a doctor where the billing can be done under a physician's name.

Recently introduced, House Bills 4128 and 4129 would require any insurer that directly pays physicians for maternity care to do the same for nurse midwives.

A nurse midwife tends to use less high-tech equipment when it is likely that a normal, healthy birth will occur. Since the cost of their overhead is low, midwives can offer these services at a lower price. The passage of these bills would not only help bring down the cost of obstetrical care for hospitals, but insurance companies as well. □

Strained Budget Impacts Women

All information submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

Programs to help women make a new start after a divorce or cope with the violence of rape will be affected by budget cuts proposed by the Governor. The proposed budget cuts would not only impact welfare recipients, who are overwhelmingly women, but also State agencies that speak out on behalf of women or try to prevent discrimination against them.

The following are included in the Governor's budget plan:

- elimination of the displaced homemakers program that helps women, including those recently divorced or widowed, get back into the work force;
- shutdown of the Office of Women and Work in the Michigan Department of Labor, a service that existed since 1902 (the office does research on working women and advises them on sexual harassment and other on-the-job problems); and
- the merging of the Office of Sex Equity with the Office of Minority Equity in the Michigan Department of Education, and cutting their total funding by 12.5%.

In addition, under the Governor's administration, the Department of Social Services will cut federal funds to the Sexual Assault Information Network (SAIN) in half. SAIN trains workers to counsel rape victims. □

When starting a business of your own, there are many things to consider — licensing and permits; payroll and taxes; job training; and the purchasing of insurance, equipment, and supplies. But one of the major obstacles faced by an entrepreneur is obtaining the money to get started.

To help ease the financial strain of becoming your own boss, the House Majority is working to help you. Recently introduced, House Bills 4315 and 4316 would establish the Minority and Woman Business Enterprise Loan Act to make loans to minority-owned and woman-owned businesses.

Under House Bill 4315, to qualify for a loan, a business would have to obtain State certification to prove 51% of its ownership and control was in the hands of any Michigan woman or minority group member. If the following conditions are met, the financing board could make a loan of up to 40% of the project's cost.

- The project must be found to be economically sound, create jobs, and expand women or minority business enterprise.
- The seeker of the loan could not finance the project at comparable terms through other sources.

- The value of the project would equal at least the money spent in its creation.
- Other public or private sources would provide a minimum of 50% of the necessary funds.

In addition, under House Bill 4316, the Division of Minority and Woman Business Enterprise board:

- would require the loan to be secured by a mortgage or another pledge;
- must be assured the borrower had not defaulted on previous loans from the board; and
- would have to find that the enterprise could succeed in the private sector with the necessary financial, technical, and managerial support from the board or another acceptable source.

The board would be required to take action on the loan application within 60 days of receiving it.

Based on this proposed legislation, the board could also provide bonding for minority and woman contractors from a special account if they had been denied bonding by at least two surety companies. Premiums would be limited to no more than two percent of the penal sums in the bonds and be placed in a bonding account. □ flict, will discuss "Resolving Conflicts Peacefully." Finally, Joseph Leavell of the United Generation Council will speak on "How To Be a More Successful Student," basically discussing study skills.

The program promises to be filled with fun and several other surprises! Three field trips are planned. Two of the trips will be to museums, and the third will be a tour of the Romulus General Motors Powertrain Plant. A craft-making event and a program wrap-up party will also complete our summer project.

The program is co-sponsored by the Mentorship Program, directed by Linda Bowman at the High School, and Kate Conway of the Romulus Adolescent Health Center. Students will also be given a health screening by the Romulus Adolescent Health Center staff. This complete program hopes to help students become more successful so that they may achieve the goals they have set for themselves. □

Parenting Pamphlet

All information submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

Bringing a child into the world is an exhilarating yet frightening experience. The pressures of becoming a parent are many. New parents not only have more responsibility, they also have more questions.

To help first-time parents, House Bill 4144 has been introduced. This bill would require the Department of Public Health (DPH) to develop and distribute a parenting pamphlet to parents of newborn babies and newly adopted children. The pamphlet is not intended to answer all "parenting" concerns, but to provide basic information and direction to other resources for additional help.

The DPH would develop the pamphlet in consultation with other appropriate State departments and with appropriate professional associations. The pamphlet would be written in easily understood English, with copies also printed in Spanish and other languages that the department decided were appropriate.

The pamphlet must be ready for distribution within 90 days after the bill takes effect. Pamphlets would be mailed to the children's parents whose names were identified from their birth certificates (both offspring children registered with the State registrar and those prepared by the State registrar for adopted children). Additionally, the pamphlets would have to be mailed to parents within 30 days after the birth certificate was registered. □

Mentorship Summer Enrichment Program Offered

By Linda Bowman

A new summer program is being offered at Romulus High School this summer — the Mentorship Summer Enrichment Program. The program is available to students who are interested in being placed with an adult role model or "mentor" in an occupational area of their choice. Students choose a career and are placed in that field. Students have chosen several different types of careers, such as building/construction, landscaping and design, veterinary medicine, law, architecture, nursing, and several other fields.

Another component of the program is the "enrichment" aspect. We have speakers coming in to help the students in several areas of their lives. "Self-esteem and Coping with Stress" will be presented by a counselor from our Romulus Adolescent Health Center. "How To Get a Job and Act on the Job" will be presented by Judy Villet from Number One Personnel Placement in Dearborn. Brian Townsend, a University of Michigan football star, will speak on "Coping with Peer Pressure and Staying Away from Drugs and Alcohol." Good 'n' Quick Snacks from Weight Watchers

Thanks to Julie Wells for passing along the following information from Weight Watchers

Is your favorite eating style a snacking style? If so, this can be just the right style for a successful weight-loss effort!

"People trying to lose weight feel less deprived when snacks are planned into their program," observes Florine Mark, area director of Weight Watchers. "Planned snacks can keep you from feeling hungry, satisfy your appetite, and help provide the good nutrition your body needs to look and feel its best."

The key to this type of sensible snacking is to make sure that the quick snack you reach for fits into your weight-loss program. Now, Weight Watchers makes it easy to plan and prepare such healthy, delicious snacks with "Good 'n' Quick" recipes from Weight Watchers Magazine. Whatever your snacking style, there's a "Good 'n' Quick" snack that's sure to hit the spot — without hitting your waistline.

To help keep your snack style sensible, Weight Watchers offers these tips:

- Portion control is important when snacking. Remember that snacks are smaller than traditional meals.
- Plan your snacks each day for the times between meals when you usually feel hungry or need an energy lift.
- When planning your snacks, try to team foods together for good taste and good nutrition. For example, a low-fat, low-calorie dip teamed with raw veggies is a great snack.
- To keep from feeling deprived, make sure your snacks include foods you really enjoy.

Romulus Junior High Band: Spring Tour 1991

By Richard Kruse, Band Director, Romulus Junior High School

On Thursday, May 23, the Romulus Junior High Tour Band departed for St. Catharines, Ontario. The Band arrived at Brock University and checked in at approximately 9:30 p.m. A full campus tour followed to loosen up the muscles after the bus ride.

On Friday morning, we played a full concert at Victoria Elementary School, part of the St. Catharines public school system. Then, after lunch, we played another performance before a very enthusiastic crowd of approximately 550 students at Ferndale Elementary. This school went from prekindergarten to eighth grade. After both concerts, our students got to mingle with the Canadian students, learning many interesting things.

Among things students learned were that Canadian high schools are often neighborhood schools with enrollments often around 300 students. They go to special locations for special programs. Also, there was the item of choice of tax dollars – either to a Catholic school (you have to be Catholic) or to the public school.

After the concerts, we went to the Maid of the Mist, then Niagara Falls and the gift shop, plus some attractions in town – the wax museum and the new ride going over Niagara Falls in a barrel. This was followed by a swim session in the Olympic-sized Brock University pool. Some of the students seemed to be feeling rather brave at the pool, and splashed me with much water. Unfortunately (for me), there was so much water being splashed, that I couldn't tell who was responsible. A pizza party followed.

On Saturday, we went to the season's opening day at the Darien Lakes Amusement Park, located East of Buffalo, New York. Darien Lakes has the world's tallest ferris wheel. We played for a very large opening day crowd right at the main gate. After that, we watched the Parade of Bands and then had the rest of the day free in the park. A lot of the kids were laughing when the customs guy made me get out my papers, which resulted in my removing my tuxedo jacket and then sitting on it in the bus. It looked terrible! Luckily for me, a maid at a motel ironed it back into shape.

On Sunday, we traveled to Toronto and Canada Wonderland. It rained hard all the way up there, but it stopped after we got there. Some of the kids made videos of rock tunes with special background effects. We showed these on the bus video on the way home – everybody was cheering. The kids liked the Vortex (a roller coaster that went through a mountain and then over a lake) and the backwards roller coaster the best – it did three upside down loops going first forward and then backward.

The kids all had a good time, with some wishing that the trip could have been longer. We got back at 12:25 a.m. on Monday, May 27.

were the highest in the history of the Romulus Community Schools. Actually, the 19 "As" and one "B+" scoring was tied by the 1977 Junior High Symphonic Band, but, upon examination, this year's band had fewer "A-s" grades. There were some very positive comments from the adjudicators. The Band Director at Ohio State University complimented the Band on maintaining the fine tradition of strong bands in Romulus. Another judge complimented the students and the way they represent their school and community.

All this did not come easy. According to Richard Kruse, in his twenty-fifth year of teaching band in Romulus, this year's band had a rough start. Actually, during the first semester concerts, they had to stop during performances more than on all the concerts through the '80s combined. But the students kept improving, both individually and as a group. Students began working hard on the tryouts and began listening and concentrating better in band.

Director Kruse wished his sincerest congratulations to each student for being his "most improved" band, and also for the high ratings at the State Festival. They will long be able to remember this

Another two weeks have gone by and the walleye fishing is either going great or good old mother nature does it to us again.

The largest walleye caught off of my charter in the past two weeks was an eight pound, 13 ounce beauty. It won the General Motors Derby last week.

Had a trip Friday. We got our limit in three hours. The fish were really nice eating size. Then came Saturday. East winds 10 to 20 miles per hour. The lake turned into a rolling mud and weed slide. Had to cancel two trips. Sunday – guess what? Yep! The same conditions. Had to cancel that trip too.

The outlook for the last week in June does not look too good. If the east wind ever stops, we are going to have to travel into the deep end of the lake which means going across the ditch into Ohio waters. The fish are there, mother nature just has to cooperate.

The report from Main Street Tackle is that every Tuesday night from 5 to 9 p.m., there are bass tournaments going on at Belleville Lake, located at the DNR launch. The price is $30 for a two-man team.

Sandy's Marina, located on Belleville Lake, reports that blue gill are hitting on wax worms or leaf worms. Good size catches are being brought in. Sandy's number is 697-1238. They are open from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Parking is $5 for all day.

We are offering a salmon fishing trip for a day and a half on Lake Ontario in Olcott New York, just 301 miles from Detroit Metro Airport. Look for our ad in this issue.

Regarding the "blackboard flu," Dr. Bedell said, "We're going to dock them one day's pay for every day they (the teachers) are off, and we will consider tenure charges against them."

"The teachers say they have not had a contract for two years, when, in fact, it has been four years," Bedell continued. "During that time, we have implemented 25% pay increases, although sometimes it was split at seven and a half each time. The major issue is that, three years ago, we paid competitive wages with Wayne-Westland and other districts, and yet the Union says the School District still owes them one and a half million dollars. I can tell you now, we are not going to go into the hole!"

Later in the meeting, Powers tried to get recognized again, but Bales told her, "Ms. Powers, you have had your say. I run this meeting, and you are through speaking."

Within a day or two, a letter was circulated to the Union members, telling them to "Just Say No." Most of that letter is reprinted at the end of this article, along with another letter that was circulated in one of the other school buildings that called for teachers to "Just Say Yes."

Deputy Chief Early Resigns

By Dave Atkins

Deputy Police Chief David Early resigned his post last week after being Deputy Chief for only a short while. The decision was Early's; no formal announcement containing details of his resignation have been released as yet.

Early was one of the first police officers hired by the Romulus Police Department. He will retain his position as lieutenant.

Appointed in his place is Lieutenant Robert Brown, who has been the administrative lieutenant for some time. Brown came in second in testing for the job as Deputy Chief, and therefore was named to the position.

Mayor Beverly McAnally was asked for comment on the resignation of Early, but the only thing she would say at this time was, "I am disappointed in the situation that occurred." □

Atchison Turns 91

By Dave Atkins

A Romulus resident has just reached her ninety-first birthday (probably eighty more than she expected), and she is happy that she did. Most likely, she will hit at least 100 – after all, you can't get much better than a score of 100, even in birthdays.

The spry young lady of whom I speak is well known at the Romulus Senior Towers and has a very famous daughter.

Florence Atchison is her name.

She was born in Barnes, Kansas, on June 19, 1900, and is one of seven children. Mrs. Atchison was married to Paul Otho Atchison (born in 1898) in 1923.

Florence worked for Western Union, starting out as an operator, and I would imagine that she probably could still wrap out the morse code on a table if you would like her to. She worked for Western Union for 47 years, and, after she left the company on a full-time basis, she still worked part-time as an instructor.

Mrs. Atchison had only one child, and it was a girl. That girl went to college and became, among other things, a newspaper reporter for The Detroit News. She is also, like her mother, a very active person.

Mrs. Atchison's daughter was very active in school activities and went on to become a City Council member, then Treasurer, and is now serving in the capacity of Mayor of Romulus. Yes, Mrs. Florence Atchison is the proud mother of Beverly McAnally.

From everyone here at "the little paper" and from your daughter and friends, we wish you a very happy birthday, Mrs. Atchison, and we hope you see at least 100 more. □ tution ever suffered a loss as is suggested."

Willett also said, in his Sunday edition, "To avoid even the vaguest appearance of wrongdoing, however, I have removed myself from any involvement in the editorial department. I cannot risk any assault on the integrity of our product."

Willett's wife also stated that, "We will publish as usual and attempt to continue doing what we do best here – serve our advertisers and readers."

On the other hand, John Anthony of the FBI put it this way: "If you go into a bank and hold it up, you take money, and go outside and change your mind, take the money back inside and give it back, did you or did you not rob the bank?"

Anthony also indicated that Willett could be arraigned within 20 days of the original arrest. There were no pleas asked for by the judge. According to the FBI, that will come at a later date or it could be asked for at the arraignment.

Although Mr. Willett has been charged (according to Anthony) with a violation of Federal law – specifically, bank fraud and embezzlement – we must remember that, in this country, you are presumed innocent until found guilty by a jury of your peers or until you admit your guilt. At this point in time, neither has been done. □

Registration is currently being accepted for all sessions; call 942-6852 for more information. Refund requests must be made before the third meeting and will be prorated.

Dancing in the '90s

Teens ages 12 to 18 don't need any dance experience to learn the best free-style moves from Janet Jackson, M.C. Hammer, Paula Abdul, and many more.

After these six sessions, they'll be able to hip-hop on any dance floor! Classes will be held on Fridays from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Recreation Building beginning July 12 (final session held Thursday, August 15). Registration is currently being accepted; enrollment is limited, so register early. The fee for the class is $25. Refunds requests must be made before the third meeting and will be prorated.

Summer Playground Program

Beginning this week, summer playground programs will be held from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday, at the following sites: Merriman, Halecreek (with transportation to Merriman), Cory, Mt. Pleasant, Civic Center, Cordell Park, and Coleman Center. Special trips will be scheduled for Fridays. No program or trip will be held from July 3 to July 5. The program will end on August 8.

For safety reasons, children will be required to stay the entire time, so please plan on packing lunches.

Due to construction, Halecreek will not be available for use this summer. For this reason, students from the Halecreek area will be transported to Merriman on days when the Merriman group is not there. Merriman and Halecreek will be separate programs.

Transportation to Elmer Johnson Park and Willow Park will be a part of the program again this year. There is no charge for Day Camp at Elmer Johnson Park, but there is a charge of $2 for swimming at Willow.

Fees for the program are charged according to the following schedule: one child per family - $12; two children per family - $18; three children per family - $21; four children per family - $24. Refund requests must be made before the third meeting and will be prorated. A limited number of scholarships will be available for those who cannot afford the program.

Participants must be registered at the Recreation Department before attending the program.

Call 942-6852 for more information.

Karate Classes

Classes in Karate, which will improve your self-confidence, build self-esteem, prepare you for self-defense, improve coordination and body tone, and help in weight control, will be held in the Recreation Building on Mondays from 6 to 8 p.m. beginning July 8 and ending August 26. Males and females of all ages are welcome. The fee for the class is $25 per person or $40 for a family of two. Preregistration (at the Recreation Building) is required.

Getting Along with Your Teen

By the Romulus High School Counseling Department

With summer vacation here, parents and their teenagers will again be spending more time together at home. While many parents look forward to this increased amount of time together, many problems that deal with parent/teenager relationships are magnified during this time. Here are some ideas and techniques that parents can try to improve their relationship with their teenagers.

- Make time for your teen. Find an activity you enjoy doing together and pursue it. If your invitations are declined, keep asking.
- Listen – really listen. Because parents have so much to do and so little time, we often try to listen while cleaning, washing dishes, or fixing the car. Put your chores aside so your teen knows you're really paying attention.
- Take the long view. Don't treat minor mishaps as major catastrophes. Choose the important issues. Don't make your home a battleground.
- Tolerate differences. View your teenager as an individual distinct from you. This doesn't mean you can't state your opinion if you disagree.
- Respect your teenager's privacy. If a behavior is worrying you, speak up.
- Let your teens sort things out themselves. Never say that you know how your teen feels. They believe their feelings, so new and personal, are unique. They'll learn otherwise – without your help. And never imply that the feelings don't matter or will change. Because teens live in the present, it doesn't matter that they'll soon feel differently.

- Don't judge. State facts instead of opinions when you praise or criticize. Stating facts like "Your poem made me smile" or "This report card is all Cs and Ds!" leaves it up to your teen to draw the appropriate conclusions. Teens are sensitive about being judged positively as well as negatively.
- Be generous with praise. Praise your child's efforts, not just his accomplishments. And don't comment on the person. "You're a great artist" is hard to live up to. "I loved that drawing" is a fact and comes from your heart.
- Set reasonable limits. Teens need them. Your rules should be consistently applied and rooted in your deepest beliefs and values.
- Teach your teen to make sensible decisions and choices by encouraging independence and letting your teenager make mistakes. Don't step in unless you have to.

If you're a parent worried about your child and you need help during the summer, call the High School at 941-2170 and someone will contact us.

Have a great summer! □

First Annual Senior Brunch

By Daniel Hurst, Assistant Principal, Romulus High School

On Friday, June 7, Romulus High School hosted its first annual "Senior Brunch" at the Ramada Inn in Romulus. The event was sponsored by the City of Romulus, Partnerships for Education/Business Education Alliance, Romulus Athletic Department, and the Romulus Community Schools. Virtually every aspect of community life was represented at the brunch, including the Mayor's office, City Council, Romulus police and fire departments, local businesses, local community service groups, Romulus Schools' administrative personnel, Romulus school board members, and many teachers. Along with this representation, about 250 seniors attended.

The seniors were treated to a delicious buffet, including breakfast and lunch items. They also enjoyed speeches from Beverly McAnally, Mayor of Romulus;

Christina Stark of Federal Mogul (Chairperson for the Business Education Alliance); Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Romulus Community Schools; and Dennis Tessin, "All-around Senior Male."

Thanks to the efforts of the leadership class; Mr. Don Foley, senior class advisor; Mr. Daniel Hurst, senior assistant principal; Louise Briody, secretary; Bonnie Bossidis, secretary; and the excellent cooperation of the Ramada Inn, the event was very successful and the Class of 1992 is looking forward to the occasion next year.

Following the brunch, the seniors returned to the High School to pick up their caps and gowns. A senior walk took place that afternoon. Seniors put on their caps and gowns and marched through the halls of the High School, ending the march in front of the School with a final "hat waving" salute. □
